Transit Briefcase S

OVERVIEW

Transit notebook cases offer lots of protection for busy executives or students who are always on the go. They keep files, accessories and personal items organized and include special features like ticket / document pockets and luggage sleeves to make travel easier. The sleeve and tote are compact and lightweight offering plenty of protection without a lot of bulk. Briefcases in two sizes are so feature-packed they are virtually a traveling office. The backpack model has a padded back with lumbar support and air flow channels to keep you comfortable whether you're headed across town or around the world.
